

Wills and Bequests

The Westlock Community Foundation is honoured to be considered as the recipient of a bequest. Including the Community Foundation in your Will enables you to provide meaningful, lasting support for causes that are important to you, after your passing.

By disclosing that you have made the Community Foundation a beneficiary of a future gift, you make it possible for your generosity to be recognized now. It also allows you to make clear to the Community Foundation any restrictions or specific wishes for your gift. (Please see the attached Bequest Form for more information.) All future gifts will be kept confidential unless it is the donor or donors' wish to be acknowledged publicly.

Bequests should name the “Westlock Community Foundation” as the beneficiary. The following Will clauses are provided as examples only:

“I give, devise, and bequeath to the Westlock Community Foundation (dollar amount of gift of property or portion of the residue) to be used in such manner as the Board of Directors may direct.”

“I give, devise, and bequeath to the Westlock Community Foundation (dollar amount of gift of property or portion of the residue) to be used for the purpose of _____.”

After the above clause, the following wording is requested:

“Recognizing that, at some time in the future, it may be found that the income from the fund cannot be usefully applied for the expressed purpose, then the income and capital may be used for any other related purpose approved by the Board of Directors of the Westlock Community Foundation, within the general aims and objectives of the Westlock Community Foundation, and in keeping with the original wishes of the donor.

The receipt of the gift by the proper agent of the Westlock Community Foundation shall be sufficient discharge, and, therefore, my Trustee shall be under no obligation to see that the trusts thereof are carried out.”

If you are considering a planned gift to the Community Foundation, we strongly encourage you to seek professional financial and legal advice that takes into account your personal circumstances. We also encourage you to discuss your wishes with your loved ones. To ensure the Bequest may be fulfilled as intended, we suggest that you or your advisor consult with Community Foundation Executive Director Katie Robertson, prior to finalizing the details of your gift arrangement, by contacting the Community Foundation office at 780-349-2212.
